HEAD IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION TO FINDING A CURE WITH TA-TAS® BRAND CLOTHING Sassy, Stylish Hats Make A Statement and Support A Great Cause

When it comes to showing your support for something as important as breast cancer research — you don't want to blend in with the scenery. But with the hot new camouflage hat series from ta-tas® Brand Clothing, you can make a statement, stand out in a crowd and directly support the fight to find a cure. In this spirit, ta-tas, manufacturer of the playful apparel line, has added stylish green and pink camouflage hats to its accessories line that feature attention-grabbing silver embroidered letters along with their branded "save the ta-tas" logo.

Look fashionable in these camouflage hats that help put the "fun in the fight" — and with a price of only $19.99, who can resist looking flashy while contributing to a worthy cause? These unique "save the ta-tas" hats may also be purchased in solid colors, white, black and pink!

ta-tas is serious about fashion and unity for the cause. The company proudly donates five percent of each sale to organizations like the Breast Cancer Research Foundation, and is a major sponsor for events such as the Revlon Run/Walk for Women. The innovative apparel company has received countless testimonials from women and their families who have been inspired by the messages of hope and support that the apparel lines project. "We've had tremendous success with our sporty T-shirt line, and continue to receive amazing reviews and positive responses from people all over the world," says creator/designer Julia Fikse. "And since we realize that the men and women who embrace our products have a variety of personal styles, we have created a hat for everyone — for those who want something understated to those who want the hottest trends."

Now you can look trendy and raise awareness for a worthy cause at the drop of a hat.
